

Human Research News

June 16, 2021

1) New webIRB functions: edit study personnel & automatic check for training

- Starting July 1, 2021, research teams will be able to add and remove certain key personnel without submitting an amendment. We anticipate this function will streamline personnel changes for both research teams and the IRB. Details on this function will be provided at the July 6, 2021 Learn at Lunch and through additional training materials in development, which will be announced in the next Human Research News.
- Starting July 1, 2021, the webIRB system will conduct automatic checks (for initial submission, AMs, and CRs) to ensure all key personnel have current human subjects training. If any key personnel have missing or expired training, the system will block submission of the application. To prepare for uninterrupted webIRB submissions under this function, please ensure that all members of your study team:
  - i. Have their CITI account linked to their SSO
  - ii. Have all of their CITI accounts merged into one
  - iii. Have required training up to date

2) OHRPP's "Learn at Lunch" – upcoming presentations

Topic: "Common Issues Identified through Complaints and Monitoring"
Presenters: Tiffany Rose and Anya Rosensteel, Quality Improvement Unit, OHRPP
